Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 6) ☐ Other: ____.

DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the term "is proposed" is noted in line 1. Further, the last sentence recites purported merits. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:
(1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;

Art Unit: 3672

- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

4. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 1, first sentence, the term "priority under" should be replaced with --the benefit of--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cook, Jr. et al.

Cook Jr. et al. discloses a method for increasing recovery that includes a method of lowering accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore of a gas well comprising: providing a gas well having a wellbore, said gas well having accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore, said liquid reducing flow rates of the gas; inducing a rapid decrease in flowing pressure into said gas well, thereby causing liquid surrounding the wellbore to be dislodged; and removing said dislodged liquid from the wellbore. With respect to depending claims 5-9, the reference teaches the limitations as claimed, including decreasing pressure by opening flow to atmosphere (via valve 40).

7. Claims 1, 4, and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jones.

Jones discloses a method that includes a method of lowering accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore of a gas well comprising: providing a gas well having a wellbore, said gas well having accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore, said liquid reducing flow rates of the gas; inducing a rapid decrease in flowing pressure into said gas well, thereby causing liquid surrounding the wellbore to be dislodged; and removing said dislodged liquid from the wellbore. With respect to depending claims 4, and 7-9, the reference teaches the limitations as claimed, including decreasing pressure by a compressor. See Figs. 3-5 and 8.

8. Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kelley et al.

Kelley et al. discloses a method for increasing recovery that includes a method of lowering accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore of a gas well comprising: providing a gas well having a wellbore, said gas well having accumulated liquid saturation surrounding the wellbore, said liquid reducing flow rates of the gas; inducing a rapid decrease in flowing pressure into said gas well, thereby causing liquid surrounding the wellbore to be dislodged; and removing said dislodged liquid from the wellbore. With respect to depending claims 4, 6, 7, and 9, the reference teaches the limitations as claimed, including decreasing pressure by a compressor 72.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
